The Best Cellar CoffeeHouse
acoustic music for an affordable price

7:30 The Lucky In Love String Band

Usually the 4th Friday of the month. 7:30 - 10:00 PM

(Pete Kozak, Jeff Hino, Ron Green, and Mark Weiss). Bluegrass with a twist. Well, maybe a few twists. Hot instrumental work and three part harmony.

8:30 Paper Wings Fiddler Wilhelmina Frankzerda, (grew up in Summit but now lives in Nashville) and Emily Mann will be stopping by The Best Cellar as part of their west coast tour. These two fine, young musicians bring a traditional, Americana sound to their own original songs. Reviewed by Kristin Andreassen (of Uncle Earl) as "a gorgeous, big-hearted and masterfully played bunch of songs and tunes from two of the best musicians I know."

The Best Cellar is a once-a-month evening of acoustic music sponsored by the Corvallis Folklore Society. Admission is 2-10 dollars (your choice). Kids are free and welcome. Coffee, tea, cookies, and gluten free cookies are available for purchase. We meet in the cellar of the Methodist Church on 11th and Monroe, in Corvallis. Enter from the back. For more information, contact Mark Weiss at mjweiss@cmug.com

Hoolyeh International Folk Dancing, Sunday, March 18, 7-9 PM, will be a special night with live music from the Zahav band.

John McCutcheon

In Concert March 2, 2018

Performing at 7:30 PM, Friday, March 2 at the 1st Presbyterian Church, 114 SW 8th, Corvallis.

Whether in print, on record, or on stage, few people communicate with the versatility, charm, wit or pure talent of John McCutcheon. John's concerts are always popular, and we get people who travel great distances to attend his Corvallis shows, so get your tickets early. Even though John is touring less now, we are getting him again this year because he likes Corvallis so much. Advance tickets are available at Grass Roots Books, starting Feb 1: $20 for CFS, $22 nonmembers; add $2 at the door. Online tickets available now at www.tickettomato.com for $22 plus a fee.

Multiple Grammy-nominee McCutcheon charms audiences with “story telling that has the richness of fine literature” (Washington Post) and his mastery of a stage full of folk instruments is simply amazing. He plays guitar, fiddle, autoharp, banjo, jaw harp, (hambone if we are lucky) and is best known for his hammered dulcimer playing. A John McCutcheon concert is always energizing, fun, uplifting, community building, and his audiences leave with a renewed sense of hope for humanity. “This notion of telling stories of ordinary people who have done great things, and carrying those stories from one place to another, of telling people ‘this is where I’ve been, these are the stories I can bring you,’ is the heart of what I do,” McCutcheon sums up. “That’s my goal. If you can recognize yourself in my songs, then I’ve done my job.”

His 39 recordings have gathered many honors including 7 Grammy nominations. His newest recording, Ghost Light, will be released soon. His children’s picture book about Vedran Smailovic, the Cellist of Sarajevo, Flowers for Sarajevo, just came out and was greeted with generous notices. Last year’s release, Trolling for Dreams, features songs about love old and new, aging and loss, hope and renewal. These are some of the most amazing songs of his career and he’s brought together the band he most loves playing with to give them life. (We especially loved “3 Chords and the Truth”). Other recent recordings include a celebration of Woody Guthrie’s 100th birthday with an all-star cast of songs and musicians; Joe Hills’s Last Will; and 22 Days, an homage to the cellist of Sarajevo. He has so much material we never know what he might perform, and of course he gives the audience a chance to request their favorites in the second half, so plan ahead!

But it is in live performance that John feels most at home. It is what has brought his music into the lives and homes of one of the broadest audiences any folk musician has ever enjoyed. People of every generation and background seem to feel at home in a concert hall when John McCutcheon takes the stage, with what critics describe as “little feats of magic,” “breathtaking in their ease and grace...,” and “like a conversation with an illuminating old friend.”

So if you want to laugh, cry, be inspired, and feel like you are a part of a big community, then don’t miss this concert. More information about John McCutcheon is on his website at www.folkmusic.com

For info or to volunteer, call Chere Pereira 541-753-9224.

CFS is collaborating with the Whiteside Theatre to bring some Celtic groups to town:

There are two remaining shows in the cosponsored Celtic Series of concerts. The tickets for these shows are now available for pre-sale only to Whiteside and CFS members. They make a perfect gift for this holiday season. Here is a tip: When giving tickets, order them on brownpapertickets.com (see below*) and specify delivery at no charge by 1st class USPS. You will receive professionally printed tickets to include in a holiday card.

The Whiteside Theatre Foundation and the Corvallis Folklore Society are announcing a pre-sale of reserved and general admission tickets for the Corvallis premier concert of Daimh on Sunday February 25, 2018 at 7:00 pm. These tickets are available now at Daimh.bpt.me

These tickets will not be announced to the general public until December 16th, so this is your opportunity to get the best seats before they are gone. 90 reserved seats in the center floor, front section of the theatre and the first row balcony are available during this presale, which is being offered only to WTF and CFS members.

They are regularly $30 but with the password "wtfchs" on the Brown Paper Tickets website, Daimh.bpt.me members qualify for a $2 discount on each ticket. General admission tickets are available for $20 and will also qualify for the membership discount.

Daimh, Gaelic Supergroup and unchallenged champion, play straight in the eye Highland music and are based around West Lochaber and the Isle of Skye. Formed around the turn of the century and taking the name from the Gaelic word for kinship Daimh (pronounced Dive) have taken their contemporary take of Highland and Gaelic music to over 20 countries, setting audiences alight from Moscow to San Francisco. With a reputation as giants of the Bagpipes and Fiddle, Angus Mackenzie and Gabe McVarish lead the melodic powerhouse with fellow founder member Ross Martin underpinning the groove on the Guitar. The Band is joined by new guy Murdo Yogi Cameron on Mandola and Accordion to complete the instrumental line up.

The Whiteside Theatre Foundation and the Corvallis Folklore Society are announcing a pre-sale of reserved and general admission tickets for the Corvallis premier concert of The Gothard Sisters on Thursday March 15, 2018 at 7:00 pm. These tickets are available now at TheGothardSisters.bpt.me

These tickets will not be announced to the general public until December 16th, so this is your opportunity to get the best seats before they are gone. 90 reserved seats in the center floor, front section of the theatre and the first row balcony are available during this presale, which is being offered only to WTF and CFS members.

They are regularly $30 but with the password "wtfchs" on the Brown Paper Tickets* website, TheGothardSisters.bpt.me, members qualify for a $2 discount on each ticket. General admission tickets are available for $20 and will also qualify for the membership discount.

The Gothard Sisters are a dynamic group of three sisters, whose impressive array of talents have set them apart as one of the most refreshing and compelling acts in Celtic music today. The sisters' unpredictable and theatrical flair brings a youthful splash to the time-honored tradition of Celtic folk music, bridging the gap between modern Pop and Folk-Rock with a sunny, optimistic style that has been described as "beautifully-arranged, melodic-minded Celtic Folk-Pop."

Hitting the streets of their hometown - Edmonds, Washington - in 2006, The Gothard Sisters first began playing together as a violin trio busking for tips at the local farmer's market, working their way onto stages at local fairs and festivals. Audiences responded with enthusiasm, and over 1,000 performances later the band recently performed at the Millennium Stage at the Kennedy Center in Washington D.C., completed several national concert tours of the United States, regularly perform as guest entertainers on Disney Cruise Line in Europe and South America and are well-known musicians on the national Celtic festival circuit. In December 2016 The Gothard Sisters charted on Billboard's World Music Chart with their latest Christmas album, Falling Snow, alongside notable Irish music phenomena Celtic Woman and Celtic Thunder.

 Using the Brown Paper Tickets website to choose reserved seats at the Whiteside Theatre

We got stumped trying to use this site so I made these steps to help: (They also have a 24 hour phone line)

1. Use the web link above for the concert you want to go to
 2. choose the price level and put in the discount code
 3. click "show available tickets" (it just says "Matching prices have been found)
 4. choose a Delivery and click "Add to Cart"
 5. It shows the tickets they assign
 6. click "Let Me assign My Seats" (on the bottom)
 7. click on the assigned ones to remove them and then click on the ones you want
 8. click "save seats" and click "next"
 9. then go through the billing page ending with "complete order"
 10. print tickets if that is the option you chose

Judy Fjell and Nancy Schimmell celebrate the life of Malvina Reynolds on March 19

Judy Fjell returns to Corvallis with Nancy Schimmel (Malvina Reynolds' daughter) to present an evening of MalvinaSpirit -- Stories and Songs of Malvina Reynolds.

This celebration of the life of Malvina Reynolds will happen at the Unitarian Universalist Fellowship of Corvallis (2945 NW Circle Blvd) starting at 7:30 PM on Monday, March 19th.

Advance tickets will be at Grass Roots Books for $15.

Add $3 at the door. (This is a UU event and not a CFS event.)

Malvina Reynolds (1900-1978) , who collaborated regularly with Pete Seeger, was a singular voice of her time. Her songs are as relevant today as they were in the Sixties. Singer-Songwriter Judy Fjell has long admired Malvina's music and has arranged and recorded many of her favorites over the years. Storyteller-Songwriter Nancy Schimmel recounts her mother's wit and wisdom with the voice of someone who knew the real Malvina and delivers stories in style. You'll sing along with old favorites like "Magic Penny", "Turnaround", "What Have They Done to the Rain" and many more. You'll hear additional verses to "It Isn't Nice" (still a favorite at protests today) and Nancy's version of "Little Boxes" as "Little Shelters" (tax shelters). You will undoubtedly hear some Malvian wit and wisdom you've never heard before. Judy and Nancy will share some of their original songs, too, in the truth-telling spirit of Malvina herself.

Singer-songwriter Judy Fjell grew up in Montana listening to folk-protest music on the radio and was so inspired to sing the repertoire that she taught herself to play the guitar. Long-time Corvallis residents will remember Judy Fjell living in Corvallis in the late 70's and early 80's and playing with the Maple Trio along with Nancy Spencer and Mark Weiss. Nancy Schimmel experienced firsthand her mother's protest stories and songs in Berkeley, California. She truly knows the life of Malvina Reynolds better than anyone else alive today. For more on Judy Fjell go to <http://www.judyfjell.com>. For concert info call 541-753-9224.
